

Los Angeles Walking Tour

Getting there -

Take the 10 freeway to the 101 and get off at the Grand Avenue exit. A visual marker is the School of Visual and Performing Arts. You will loop around to the right and then turn right on Grand Avenue. Stay in the right lane. You will drive about 2 blocks and park in the public parking structure under the music center (Ahmanson, Taper, Chandler).

Parking -

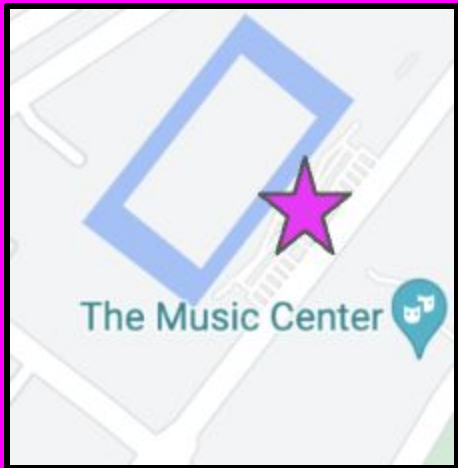

Under the Music Center on Grand Avenue
$10/car

Food -

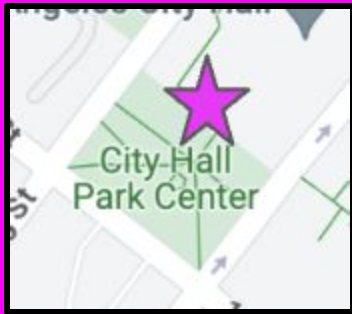

Grand Central Market, Colburn School Cafe or various food trucks

Note -

Because we will be walking up some hills and entering some historic buildings, this will be considered a “no tripod trip.”

304 S Broadway
Saturday 10:00-2:00

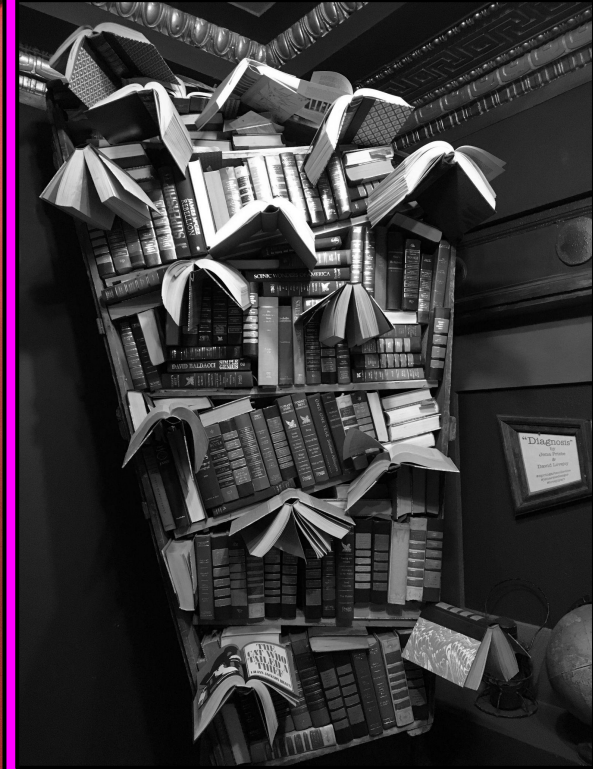

The Bradbury Building is an architectural landmark in downtown Los Angeles. Built in 1893, the five-story office building is best known for its extraordinary skylit atrium of access walkways, stairs and elevators, and their ornate ironwork.

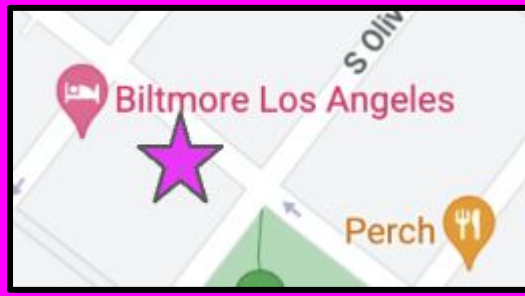

Corner of Spring and 5th St.
Entrance on 5th Street
Saturday 11-8:00

On Website:
We're not really the last bookstore - thank goodness - but we are the largest new and used bookstore in California. Plus, we're the only one that's 22,000 sq. feet with a record store, comic book store, 5 art studios, an epic yarn shop, a famous book tunnel, a mammoth head, and unexpected nooks of funkiness. Also we are in a hundred-year-old bank building, so we have vaults and ghosts.

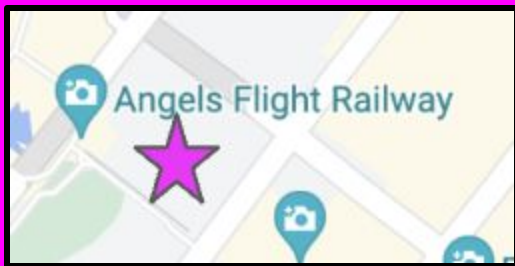

506 S Grand Ave
Between Olive and Grand
Photo view: Olive and 5th
Across from Pershing Square

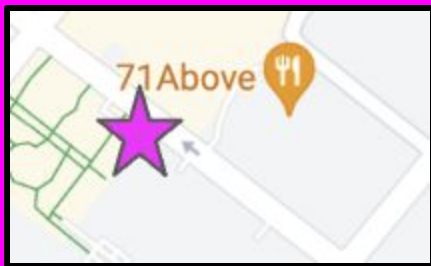

The Millennium Biltmore Hotel—originally the Los Angeles Biltmore—has been a downtown LA landmark for nearly a century. When it opened in 1923, it was the largest hotel west of Chicago and helped establish downtown Los Angeles as an entertainment hub in the 1920s and '30s. Early home for the Oscars.

Grand Central Market and Funicular Between Hill and Broadway at 3rd St. Across from Bradbury Building

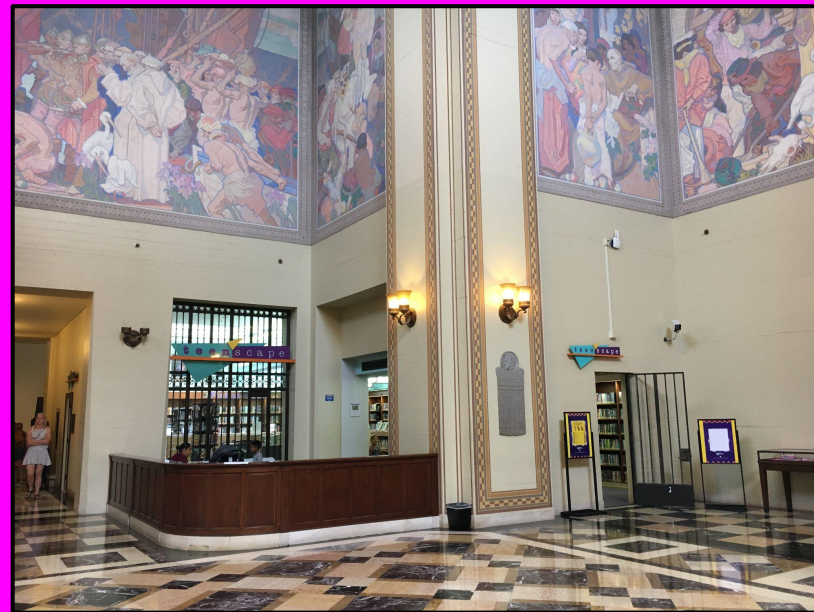

L.A. Central Library

630 W 5th St

Saturday 9:30 to 5:30

Reflection Pools
Between the Omni Hotel and MOCA

Colburn School (cafe)

